U. S. Physical Therapy Named to Houston Chronicle's Top 100 Publicly Traded Companies

Houston, TX, June 14, 2010 – U.S. Physical Therapy, Inc. (NasdaqGS: USPH), a national operator of outpatient physical therapy clinics, today announced that it has been named to the Houston Chronicle's annual survey of the top 100 publicly traded companies in Houston. The Chronicle 100 list, prepared for the newspaper by Standard & Poor's Capital IQ division, ranks Houston's top publicly traded companies by a score based on four measures of financial performance in 2009 including total revenue, annual revenue growth, annual earnings-per-share growth and one-year total return to shareholders.

Chris Reading, Chief Executive Officer of U.S. Physical Therapy, said, "We are pleased to be ranked in this year's survey reflecting USPH's continued growth both in our top line and bottom line. In 2010, we remain well positioned to pursue growth opportunities through a combination of internal expansion and acquisitions in the highly fragmented physical therapy sector."

A complete list and breakdown of the rankings was published in the May 18, 2010 edition of the Houston Chronicle and can also be accessed at www.chron.com/100.
